MANHATTAN COLLEGE,

NEW YORK CITY,

CONDUCTED BY

The Brothers of the Christian Schools.

The College occupies an elevated position on the east bank of the Hudson River. The location is not surpassed in landscape, beauty, or salubrity. It commands an extensive view of the river, comprising some of its grandest and most picturesque scenery.

The object of this Institution is to afford students the means of acquiring the highest grade of university education, by combining the advantages of a college and of a polytechnic school.

The plan of studies embraces a thorough course of humanities, and both the higher mathematics and the natural sciences receive more attention than is usually bestowed on them in literary institutions.

Before receiving any degree, the classical student is required to translate with facility the various Greek and Latin works mentioned in the course, and to speak the latter language fluently and well; while the student of science must evince an accurate knowledge of calculus, astronomy, chemistry, natural philosophy, etc.

Care is taken that every branch prescribed be thoroughly studied, and that nothing be learned merely by rote. With this view the students discuss the subject-matter of each lesson in class, independently of the language of the text-book, criticise one another's work, and give free expression to their opinions on all points open to debate. They thus accumulate ideas instead of mere words, they digest what they learn, and acquire thoughtfulness, self-reliance, and facility of expression.

Since the vernacular language and literature, no less than the ancient languages and the sciences, constitute an essential feature of a sound education, they are studied throughout the course in every form which has received the approval of the most experienced and most successful educators.

Besides being carefully instructed in the analytical principles of the language, the students are required, not only to take part in discussions on rhetoric, logic, moral philosophy, etc., but also to write weekly essays, which are submitted to the criticism of the whole class, and are finally commented upon by the professor in charge.

The studies of the preparatory classes embrace various grades, so that parents who wish their children to enter the institution at an early age may meet with no obstacle.

The commercial department affords the advantages of a commercial college to young men who cannot command the necessary time to pursue the whole course, either in the classical or the scientific department. To those attaining such proficiency in this course as will enable them to undergo a thorough examination, certificates of competency are given as a guarantee of their fitness to engage in mercantile pursuits.

Ample arrangements are made for the encouragement of students who have a taste for the fine arts. Instructions are given in drawing, modelling, sculpture and painting, by artists of acknowledged merit and distinction; and the Faculty are of opinion that every student should learn, at least, the rudiments of drawing, since it is not only ornamental, but useful in a very high degree.

The students' library is constantly receiving additions made by gifts and by purchase. At present it contains twelve thousand volumes. Every facility is afforded to students who wish for a more extensive course of reading.

Students who pursue the scientific course have the advantage of access to the excellent museum of the College, which contains collections on zoölogy and mineralogy not surpassed by any private collection in the United States.

Besides the ordinary lecture room for lessons in Theoretical Chemistry and Physics, an excellent laboratory has been fitted up for special work in Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis. The students of the advanced classes will be provided with cabinets, and will be furnished with the necessary chemicals and apparatus at cost price.

Aware that physical training is also necessary to a thorough education, the Faculty have spared no pains to secure for their students all the advantages to be derived from approved modes of exercise.

The College is sufficiently far from the business part of the city to secure that retirement which is essential to persevering and successful study ; and yet near enough to afford easy access to the principal public libraries, art galleries, zoölogical and geological collections, etc.

In the vicinity are several places of interest which the students are permitted to visit once or twice a week, under the supervision of one of the prefects. They reach some of the most attractive parts of Central Park in ten minutes, and High Bridge in twenty minutes.

As the College is conducted by the Brothers of the Christian Schools, the public need hardly be assured that the utmost attention is bestowed on the moral and religious training of all confided to their care.

All communications to be addressed to the Secretary.

THE COLLEGIATE SESSION.

The Collegiate Session is divided into two terms. The first begins on the first Monday in September ; the second, on the first day of February.

Newly-admitted students must present a certificate of good character.

Each student, on being admitted, is examined, and classified according to his attainments.

Examinations are held the last day of every month, and summarized reports of the same are furnished parents at Christmas, Easter, and the end of the session.

Failure in the monthly examinations prevents the student's promotion with his class.

Weekly records of the progress of the students in each branch are read in the classes by the President.

The students are classified into three divisions, each having a special prefect, thus securing complete separation of the younger from the older students.

The discipline of the College is committed to the President, who relies mainly on paternal advice and moral influence to secure propriety of conduct, diligence, and gentlemanly deportment.

SCIENTIFIC DEPARTMENT.

Students, who, either through taste or on account of their proposed calling in life, wish to devote special attention to the study of Science, will find every facility in the Scientific Department. The course pursued in this department of the College, while the same in general as the Classical Course, differs from it in not giving so much attention to Classics, and in making a more extended course of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, both pure and applied.

Students who pass a satisfactory examination in the Scientific Course receive the degree of Bachelor of Science.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

Geometry—solid and spherical, Algebra, to Section V. (Robinson's University), Geometrical Drawing, Descriptive Geometry; English Composition and Rhetoric, Geography and History—ancient; Elocution; French—Fasquelle's Course, Fasquelle's Telemachus; German—Grammar, Exercises; Christian Doctrine.

SECOND TERM.

Geometry—analytical, Algebra to Logarithms, Trigonometry—plane, Mensuration, use of Mathematical Tables, Natural Philosophy, Surveying, Geometrical Drawing, Descriptive Geometry; English Composition and Rhetoric, Geography and History—ancient; Elocution; French—Fasquelle's Course, Telemachus; German; Christian Doctrine.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

Analytical Trigonometry—plane and spherical, Analytical Geometry—two dimensions, Algebra, Geometrical Drawing, Surveying, Descriptive Geometry, Topographical plans, Natural Philosophy—mechanics; Chemistry—non-metallic elements; English Literature and Rhetoric, Essays, History—ancient; Elocution; French—Fasquelle's Course, Exercises, Telemachus; German; Christian Doctrine.

SECOND TERM.

Algebra, Analytical Geometry, Surveying, Geometrical Drawing, Descriptive Geometry, Navigation; Natural Philosophy—hydrostatics, pneumatics, acoustics; Chemistry—metallic elements; English Literature and Rhetoric, Essays, History—ancient; Elocution; French, Fasquelle's Course, Telemachus; German; Christian Doctrine.

JUNIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

Calculus, Trigonometry, Surveying, Levelling, Navigation, Descriptive Geometry, Geometrical Drawing, Natural Philosophy—optics, magnetism, electricity; Chemistry—organic; English Literature and Rhetoric, Essays, History; French, Composition, Bossuet's Orations; German; Philosophy—Logic.

SECOND TERM.

Calculus, Natural Philosophy, Mechanics, Descriptive Geometry; Chemistry, Geology, Surveying; English Literature and Rhetoric, Essays, History—modern; French, Composition, Bossuet's Orations; German; Philosophy, Metaphysics.

SENIOR CLASS.

BOTH TERMS.

Astronomy, Mechanics, Chemistry, Descriptive Geometry, Geology, Botany, Mineralogy, Physiology, English Literature and Rhetoric, Essays, History—modern, French and German Literature, Philosophy, Metaphysics.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

The course of studies in this department extends through three years, and, in addition to the elementary branches, embraces the following :

Book-keeping in all its forms, Penmanship, Phonography, Commercial Arithmetic, Telegraphy, Lectures on Commercial Law, Grammar, Epistolary Correspondence, Rhetoric and Composition, Geometry, Algebra, Mensuration, History, Geography, Logic, Evidences of Religion.

Students of this department may attend lessons in the Collegiate or the Scientific Department.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

The Preparatory Department of the College is complete and well conducted. The students of this department form a separate division.

Spelling, Reading, Writing ; History and Geography, Grammar, Elocution, Composition, Synonymes ; Arithmetic,—intellectual and practical : Algebra and Geometry—elementary ; Latin—Grammar, Exercises, Epitome Historiæ Sacræ, Viri Romæ, Cæsar, Sallust's Jugurtha ; Greek—Grammar, Exercises, Testament ; French — Exercises, Fasquelle's Introductory Course ; German—Grammar, Exercises, Adler's Ollendorff ; Spanish—Grammar, Exercises, Robertson's Course ; Religious Instruction.

RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are several societies in the College, partaking at once of a religious and literary character. The object is to foster a spirit of piety and devotion, making the frequent use of the Sacraments and the practice of easily retained forms of devotion characteristic of societies otherwise purely secular in their workings.

The history and spirit of these devotions are carefully explained.

Several literary and musical entertainments are annually given to the College patrons by these societies.

These literary entertainments are found to be efficient means by which the students acquire self-possession, ease of diction and grace of delivery.

These Institutions are complete in themselves and give a thoroughly practical and Christian education. They are incorporated with the College, and are so organized, that students attending any of them, may, according to capacity, enter the College, and in due course, graduate.

DE LA SALLE INSTITUTE,

NOS. 48 & 50 SECOND STREET, NEW YORK.

This Institute offers to students every facility for obtaining a thorough education. The course of instruction embraces three departments: Primary, Intermediate, and Academic.

There is, besides, a Commercial course which presents rare advantages to young men who intend to engage in mercantile pursuits.

Care is taken that every branch presented be thoroughly studied, and not merely learned by rote. To promote this end, the students are accustomed to discuss the subjects of their various lessons, and to state their opinions on debatable points.
